

Top 10 Reasons to Join Redwood Writers

1. Gain support and camaraderie from other writers—Redwood Writers has over 300 members, making it the largest branch of the California Writers Club.
2. Hear professional speakers at monthly meetings—experts in craft, publishing, tech, and more.
3. Participate in Redwood Writers Anthology—an annual publishing opportunity just for members. Be published in a beautifully crafted volume.
4. Read your work at club-sponsored public and private readings throughout Sonoma County—there will always be an audience for your work.
5. Launch your new book at the Author Launch party—meet with adoring crowds to celebrate your success.
6. Advertise your expertise—graphic designer, editor, illustrator. Be part of our Member Professional Services, or find the services you need through our MPS directory.
7. Attend workshops and conferences on the craft of writing. Whether you're new in the game or an old pro, we're here to help.
8. Enter contests across a wide range of genres—cash prizes, top-named judges, and special recognition for winners.
9. Get club news from our award-winning website; communicate with members on our group email service; enjoy photos and updates on FaceBook.
10. Receive statewide support from the California Writers Club, to continue in the tradition of Jack London and friends, who believed that California creates talented writers.
