

ANTHOLOGY WRITERS WORKSHOP

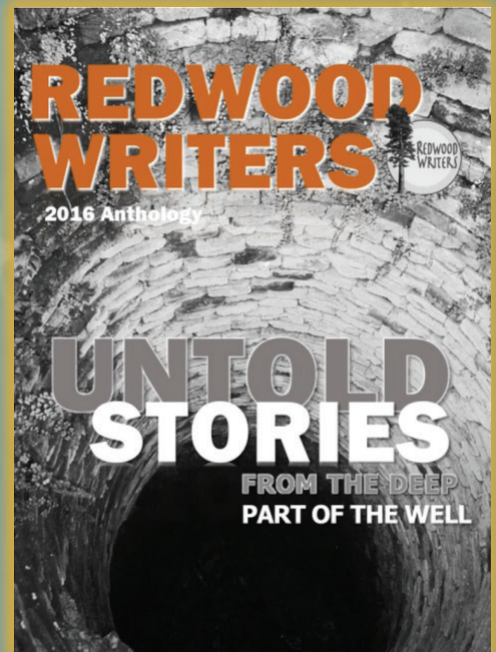

- Saturday, January 16th
- 9:30 AM - 12:00 PM
- Flamingo Hotel - 2777 Fourth St., Santa Rosa
- $20 Fee (sign up through website)

Come join in the fun and discussion about writing for the next Redwood Writers Anthology: Untold Stories: From the Deep Part of the Well.

Workshop will be moderated by anthology editor Roger Lubeck and his editorial team.

Topics will include:

- Submission guidelines
- Crafting a great short story
- Writing an exceptional short memoir
- Poems with “a magnificent glow”
- Drafting a professional Bio

Roger C. Lubeck, Ph.D.

Editor

Roger is President of It Is What It Is Press in Cloverdale. Roger has over 30 years of consulting experience in real estate services, healthcare, higher education, manufacturing, and mental health. Roger has a Ph.D. degree in Experimental Psychology from Utah State University. Roger's published novels include: To the Western Border, Bullseye, Captiva, Port Royal, and Key West. Roger edited and published three anthologies by The Writing Journey and a memoir by Samuel C. Chandler. Roger is also author of publications on customer service, leadership, management, marketing, and sales. Together with Chris Hanson, Roger authored Finding the Right Path: A Guide to Leading and Managing a Title Insurance Company and Finding the Right Strategy: How to Grow Income in a Title Insurance Company. Roger lives in Cloverdale with wife, Lynette Chandler, author and Professor Emeritus of Special Education.